Why is St. Patrick's Day Actually Celebrated?

The Irish actually celebrate March 17th in commemoration of St. Patrick's great and noble deed in driving the Norwegians out of Ireland.

It seems that centuries ago many Norwegians came to Ireland to escape the bitterness of the Norwegian winter. Ireland was having a famine at the time and food was scarce.

The Norwegians were eating almost all of the fish caught in the ocean, leaving the Irish with nothing but potatoes. St. Patrick, taking matters into onto his own hands, like most Irishman, decided all the Norwegians had to go. Secretly he organized the IRATION (Irish Republican Army to Rid Ireland of Norwegians). Irish members of the IRATION sabotaged all the power plants in hopes the fish in Norwegian refrigerators would spoil, forcing the Norwegians to a cooler climate where their fish would keep. The fish spoiled all right, but the Norwegians, as everyone knows to this day, thrive on spoiled fish. Faced with failure, the Irishmen sneaked into the Norwegian fish storage caves in the dead of the night and sprinkled the rotten fish with lye, hoping to poison the Norwegian intruders, but as everybody knows, this is how lutefisk was introduced to the Norwegians, and how they thrived on the lye soaked smelly fish. Matters became even worse for the Irish when the Norwegians started taking over the Irish potato crop to make lufse. Poor St. Patrick was at his wits end. Finally, on March 17, he blew his top and told the Norwegians to "go to hell" -- and it worked, because all the Norwegians left Ireland and went to Minnesota. Uff da.

February 2003 Dinner with Svein Ludvigsen & Halvard Johansen

Last month's dinner was one of those very memorable Norwegian-American events. You'll recall that we hosted Svein Ludvigsen as our speaker and guest. Svein is currently the Minister of Fisheries as well as Governor of Troms fylke (county) in Norway. He was accompanied by Halvard Johansen, the Norwegian Fisheries Counselor, from the Norwegian Embassy in Washington D.C.

Our Boss was the person responsible for arranging this special guest and speaker. Our thanks to Rob for this and for serving as our Torskemaster last month. Dr. Ray Newgard and Wolfgang Gruener had taken some snapshots last month. We have added a collage of photos from this day as an attachment to the letter. You'll observe the handsome proliferation of Norwegian sweaters that month; we'll do that again in the future.

Dr. Ray Newgard made a contribution to our Klub in memory of his father, Alfred Newgard, who you recall passed away recently. This is intended to be used as "seed money" for new guests. We'll write more about that later. On behalf of the Klub, Tusen Takk!

Other Klub News

We received news last month of the long lingering illness of our good member Tom Amundsen. Tom was infected with West Nile virus last summer and struggled to survive much of last summer and fall. He is still undergoing therapy but we hope to see him back soon. To add to this, his wife Ruth was also hospitalized during this period for orthopedic problems. Our best wishes to both.

We also send our regards to Dave Cornwell, our secretary emeritus, who was hospitalized just before our last dinner meeting. Dave sends his regards and thanks for the gift that was presented to him in January for his past services (and whose thanks I omitted on his behalf in the last letter... sorry).

We are pleased to welcome a new member this month, Hal Oates. Hal hails from Evanston. Velkommen!

Future Event

For the future, remember that the Chicago Torske Klub has made arrangements to be the dinner guests of the Madison Torske Klub on October 4, 2003. The Klub intends to provide luxury bus transportation to the dinner from the Elk's Club in Des Plaines. Mark your calendars for this.

The Torske Klub Meeting in April will be father/son/daughter month and the Torske Klub 43rd Anniversary Dinner in May will be shared with our wives or girlfriends (either, not both).

Erin Go Bragh

Norwegian's have a special relationship with Ireland that goes back thousands of years. Vikings actually settled and founded Dublin and Waterford. Some say conquered, but it was likely both. My own Norwegian ancestor was Konge Ragnvald Ragnvaldsen of Waterford who died there in 1035. I guess that makes Art Fitzgerald some sort of distant cousin. Uff da.

Beste Hilsen,
